

Light Pollution Drawing for a School Project

Are you looking for a free, ready-to-use drawing idea for your school project on light pollution? This creative sample is perfect for students who want to raise awareness about how artificial lighting affects animals and our environment.

Drawing Title: "City Lights vs Night Nature"

Concept:

Half of the page shows a brightly lit urban city with glaring lights, stars barely visible, and confused birds flying near streetlights.

The other half shows a calm countryside night with stargazing animals like owls, bats, and turtles naturally guided by the moonlight.

Ideal for: Class 4-8 students

Theme: Environmental Awareness, Wildlife Protection, Astronomy

Tip: Use glow-in-the-dark colors or black paper for extra effect!
